Cultural Response Coordinator (Corporate Services) (Full-time position)

AccordWest is a vibrant, not-for-profit, community-based organisation. We are offering a unique and fulfilling employment opportunity for a suitability qualified, innovative and motivated person for the part-time position of Cultural Response Coordinator (CRC). This position will be based in either Bunbury or Mandurah and work across all AccordWest sites including Bunbury, Busselton, Mandurah and Manjimup offices.

The CRC is a key member of the AccordWest's Management Team, working closely with the CEO and Management Team to project manage the implementation of the strategic initiatives within the organisation's Reconciliations Action Plan.

The role of the CRC is to identify and recommend strategies to increase the cultural competency of the organisation to increase client engagement in all the organisation's programs. This includes liaising with staff working with Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander clients and refugee clients across all the various programs, to ensure client engagement is culturally appropriate and service delivery is provided with respect for the culture and custom.

The CRC position was created with the aims of identifying and recommending strategies to increase the cultural competency of the organisation to ensure that it delivers high quality outcomes for all clients and the wider community.

In order to successfully deliver high-level support services to assist in all areas of the organisation, it is highly desirable that you hold a diploma or degree level qualification in Psychology, Social Work or other relevant field of tertiary study and/or experience working within a relevant Human Services sector, with a focus on case management and the ability to develop and maintain appropriate case notes. You will also be able to demonstrate use of initiative and skills to engage with clients with complex needs and to engage with groups of clients to achieve agreed goals.
